INTRODUCTION:
1. We pride ourselves in being able to place a time limit on many things.
   A. We boast at being able to say that certain things are going to happen at certain times.
      1. And, at times, this is true, and we think very little about it.
2. On the other hand, there are some certainties that cause us to stand in awe.
   A. I would like for us to consider some of them during this time.
